This is the story of a Jersey cow, named Georgia, standing on top of the Empire State Building. She is singing a couple of Christmas Carols. She is wearing underwear. Under her arm is a Virginia ham. In her hoof is a pencil. She is drawing a connect-the-dots picture of Marilyn Monroe, walking down a road going to mass.