

Underground Railroad Simulation Reflection

Name: _____ Period: _____

- Think about the feelings you had while playing your part during the UGRR Simulation. Regardless of whether you successfully reached Canada or not, or as a Patrol of Bounty Hunter, compare your simulated experiences to those your real historical character may have had.
- Write a reflection that answers these questions using complete sentences:
 - What would it have felt like to have attempted escape?
 - Why would you take the risk of escape?
 - Why would have someone been a slave owner?
 - What kind of characteristics would be important for a conductor to possess (i.e. daring, bravery, courage, etc)
 - Why would someone have been a bounty hunter or patrol?
 - Why kind of hardship did escaping slave, patrols, or bounty hunters have to endure while either on the run or on the hunt?
- Entry doesn't have a specific length requirement, however, you MUST address each of the points above, using DETAILS from what you know and what you experienced during the simulation. If you type: 12pnt Times New Roman double spaced on Google, and shared with Mr. Hamilton by the end of the day.
- Start your assignment with "I was a _____ on the Underground Railroad." And continue from there.

Underground Railroad Simulation Reflection

Name: _____ Period: _____

- Think about the feelings you had while playing your part during the UGRR Simulation. Regardless of whether you successfully reached Canada or not, or as a Patrol of Bounty Hunter, compare your simulated experiences to those your real historical character may have had.
- Write a reflection that answers these questions using complete sentences:
 - What would it have felt like to have attempted escape?
 - Why would you take the risk of escape?
 - Why would have someone been a slave owner?
 - What kind of characteristics would be important for a conductor to possess (i.e. daring, bravery, courage, etc)
 - Why would someone have been a bounty hunter or patrol?
 - Why kind of hardship did escaping slave, patrols, or bounty hunters have to endure while either on the run or on the hunt?
- Entry doesn't have a specific length requirement, however, you MUST address each of the points above, using DETAILS from what you know and what you experienced during the simulation. If you type: 12pnt Times New Roman double spaced on Google, and shared with Mr. Hamilton by the end of the day.
- Start your assignment with "I was a _____ on the Underground Railroad." And continue from there.